Weather, Seasons & Making Plans

Vocabulary, useful phrases, grammar, writing and conversation practice

Level A2-B1 · 45-60 min · Lesson 13

LESSON GOAL

By the end of this lesson, you should be able to describe current weather, understand a simple forecast, talk about seasonal conditions, and make or change plans based on uncertain weather.

Learn weather vocabulary first, then practise future language with “going to”, “will”, and “might”. Finish by planning a weekend with the Conversation Lab while the forecast changes.

Communication goal

Weather plans are rarely 100% certain. English uses different future forms to separate plans, quick decisions, and possibilities.

Warm-up

1. What is the weather usually like where you live?

Before you continue

Answer the four questions in English using short sentences. Do not worry about mistakes yet. The goal is to activate the topic before studying the new language.

USEFUL PHRASES

	What is the chance of rain?	Ask probability.
Plans	We are going to have a picnic.	Existing plan.

	I will bring an umbrella.	Decision made now.
Changing plans	Let us wait and see.	Delay decision.
	We should have a backup plan.	Prepare alternative.
	If it rains, we can...	Conditional alternative.

Make it yours

Choose three phrases from this page and rewrite them with details from your own life. Personal examples are easier to remember and use naturally.

GRAMMAR FOCUS

Going to, will, and might for future plans

Use “going to” for an existing plan, “will” for a decision made now or a straightforward prediction, and “might” for a possibility that is not certain.

PATTERN	EXAMPLE	USE
going to	We are going to hike on Saturday.	existing plan
will	I will bring a jacket.	decision made now
will	It will be colder tonight.	forecast / prediction
might	It might rain in the afternoon.	uncertain possibility
if + present	If it rains, we can stay indoors.	condition + alternative

Planning formula

PLAN -> FORECAST -> POSSIBILITY -> BACKUP. “We are going to have a barbecue. It might rain, so if the weather gets worse, we will move it indoors.”

Mini practice

Choose: We are going to / might have a picnic; it is already planned.

Complete: It _____ rain later, but I am not sure.

Complete: If it rains, we _____ watch a movie instead.

Write one plan and one weather backup.

MODEL DIALOGUE

Making weekend plans around the forecast

The speakers keep the original plan but create an alternative because the weather is uncertain.

LENA Are we still going to the park on Saturday?

NOAH I think so, but have you seen the forecast?

LENA No. Is it supposed to rain?

NOAH There is a 50% chance in the afternoon.

LENA Hmm. We are going to meet at noon, right?

NOAH Yes. The morning should be dry, but it might rain later.

LENA We could bring food and stay near the covered area.

NOAH Good idea. I will bring an umbrella too.

LENA And if the weather gets really bad, we can go to the cafe across the street.

NOAH Perfect. Let us check the forecast again on Saturday morning.

LENA Sounds good. Hopefully it clears up.

NOAH Either way, we have a backup plan.

Natural uncertainty

“Might” is useful because it lets you discuss a real possibility without sounding certain about the forecast.

WRITING PRACTICE 01

Build useful sentences

Translate the sentences into English using the vocabulary and structures from this lesson. More than one answer may be correct.

1. Qual é a previsão para amanhã?
2. Vai chover?
3. Há 60% de chance de chuva.
4. Está mais frio do que eu esperava.
5. Parece que vai chover.
6. Nós vamos fazer um piquenique no sábado.
7. Talvez chova à tarde.
8. Eu vou levar um guarda-chuva.
9. Se chover, podemos ficar em casa.
10. Vamos conferir a previsão primeiro.
11. Precisamos ter um plano B.
12. O tempo deve melhorar à tarde.

WRITING PRACTICE 02

Plan a weather-dependent weekend

This task combines a real plan with uncertainty and a backup option.

Task: Write 90-120 words about your plans for an upcoming weekend. Mention two planned activities, the expected weather, one uncertain possibility with “might”, what you will bring or do, and one backup plan if the weather changes.

Try to include some of these:

- I am going to...
- The forecast says...
- It will probably...
- It might...
- I will bring...
- If it rains,...
- If it is too hot,...
- Our backup plan is...

Simple structure

PLAN -> WEATHER -> WHAT MIGHT CHANGE -> DECISION -> BACKUP. Use at least two different future forms.

Self-check before you finish

- ☐ Did I use “going to” for a real plan?
- ☐ Did I use “might” for uncertainty?
- ☐ Did I include at least one “if” sentence?
- ☐ Did I create a clear backup plan?

CONVERSATION PRACTICE

Role-plays for the AI coach

Open the Conversation Lab and complete each situation before asking the AI to correct you. Try to stay in English even when you need time to think.

Role-play 1 · Weekend plans

Role-play 2 · Change of weather

The AI tells you the forecast has changed. Adjust your plans twice as new information appears.

Role-play 3 · Trip packing

You are traveling somewhere with mixed weather. Ask the AI about the forecast and decide what clothes and items to pack.

Questions to practise

- What is the forecast for tomorrow?
- Is it supposed to rain?
- What is the chance of rain?
- What are you going to do this weekend?
- What will you bring?
- What might change the plan?
